

More advanced Pascal Scripting

The Orixia scripting capability is not limited to just running SQL Statements or updating records. It can be used more dynamically to create new Forms for your App, and to integrate with programmes outside your App.

The following document shows some basic examples of how to do this.

Creating a new Form in your App

Extend this help item with script examples showing what can be done ...

Interacting with Microsoft Word using OLE

Write an example merging data from Orixia into a word-document.